

Online Training Days for Successful Applications to the European Molecular Biology Organization (EMBO) Scholarships and Grants

Online training days will be organised to promote successful applications to the EMBO scholarships and grants on October 16-17, 2025 between 10:00-14:30.

Online training days will be organised on October 16 and 17, 2025 between 10:00-14:30 (Türkiye time) to promote successful applications to the scholarships and grants provided by the European Molecular Biology Organization (EMBO), one of the world's leading organisations in the field of life sciences.

Scientists at any stage in their careers, graduate students and postdoctoral researchers positioned in any university or research institute in Türkiye working in the field of life sciences or medicine, and researchers wishing to organise courses or workshops in the field of life sciences or medicine, will be informed about EMBO scholarships and grants. Additionally, academicians who have been previously supported by these programmes will share their experiences.

The event will provide information about EMBO's Postdoctoral Fellowships, Scientific Exchange Grants, Young Investigator Programme, Installation Grants, Science Journalism Fellowships, Grants for Practical Courses and Workshops, Speaker and Travel Grants. The event programme can be found below.

The event will be conducted in Turkish. Click the link below to register for the event.
